Bittu who refused to let a river die

Bittu's dogged pursuit has helped restore a section of the river, earning him widespread praise across the country and an invite from chief minister Mohan Yadav on Saturday. They had a warm and freewheeling exchange at the CM's residence in Bhopal, where Yadav assured Bittu of every possible support from govt.

The CM also shared a video on X, calling Bittu a "son of Biaora" who not only restored Ajnala (the river stretch passing through Biaora) to its original form through sheer resolve and effort, but also sent out a larger message that one man's determination is all it takes to bring meaningful change.

There were also reports that the CEO of an orgination from the Netherlands had offered him a job, but Bittu said he had only heard it from media reports. "I am yet to receive any information about it first hand," he told TOI.

Surendra Singh Choudhary in front of the Ajnar River

Encouraged by his success, Bittu, whose parents work in the health department, has decided to expand his work. "My sole objective is to keep my hometown clean. I have decided to take my work to other public places," he said. It was on the Republic Day this year that Bittu started his mission. Upset that everyone complained about the civic mess, but none cared to address, including the municipal administration, the college-goer decided to get his hands dirty. From removing garbage piles on streets to pulling out weeds from the water bodies, his civic activism eventually drew national attention. TNN

Nayak Dismisses BJP's Rahul Visit Claim; CM Yadav Hits Back

Times News Network

Indore: Congress national spokesperson Ragini Nayak on Saturday refuted state cabinet minister Kailash Vijayvargiya's claim that Rahul Gandhi's visit to Indore would benefit BJP, asking the senior party leader to reflect on his remarks before speaking.

When asked by media personnel about BJP leaders' assertions that Rahul Gandhi's upcoming visit would politically benefit the ruling party, Nayak dismissed the claims. Directing her remarks at Urban Development Minister Kailash Vijayvargiya, she asserted that Gandhi's presence would offer zero benefit to the BJP.

'Ganta, Ghanta Fayda Hoga BJP Ko' (I know the BJP won't gain a damn thing from it), Nayak said.

Nayak's response invoked a colloquial phrasing previously used by Vijayvargiya during Bhagirathpura contaminated water incident, bringing the minister's earlier statements back into public discussion. She stated that Vijayvargiya's public statements often invite self-ridicule and advised him to reflect on his remarks before speaking.

The exchange highlights intensifying rhetoric between the Congress and the ruling BJP in Madhya Pradesh ahead of key political events in the region.

On the other hand, Chief Minister Mohan Yadav, during his Indore visit on Saturday, also reacted on Rahul Gandhi's proposed programme in Indore. He said that there is a stark difference between Congress's claims and actions.

"Despite repeated campaigns, Rahul Gandhi and the Congress party failed to prevent the BJP's election victories under Prime Minister Narendra Modi for three consecutive terms" he said, adding that Congress leadership needs self-introspection to identify its political shortcomings and operational errors rather than making rhetoric statements.

Sloth bear mauls 70-yr-old cattle grazer to death in Shahdol dist

Bhopal: A 73-year-old man was mauled to death by a sloth bear while grazing cattle in Shahdol district's Keshwahi forest area on Friday, forest officials said.

Chhatradhari Sahu, a resident of Kudeli village, was grazing cattle with other villagers in compartment RF-1005 when they encountered a sloth bear with two cubs. While two villagers moved away with their cattle, Sahu stayed behind and was attacked, they said.

Other villagers drove the animal away by making noise. Sahu, who suffered severe injuries, was taken to a medical college hospital, where he died during treatment.

The Forest Department provided Rs 10,000 as immediate assistance to Sahu's family and initiated the process to pay Rs 8 lakh compensation. TNN
